

National Volunteer Week 2021

April 18-24, 2021

"The Value of One, the Power of Many" is the theme of 2021 National Volunteer Week. It's a celebration of all those who have stepped up to help others and also recognition of those who have stepped back from volunteering to protect themselves and others. This annual special section honours the value of volunteers. Join this community-wide thank you and let volunteers know their efforts are appreciated.

- We are fully Covid compliant using all the required PPE and cleaning all our gear between inspections.
- We do free thermal imaging with a home inspection.
- We use many tools like moisture meters and co2 detectors. Best of all is the drone for inaccessible areas like roofs.
- We are WETT Certified to inspect wood burning appliances.
- We do Septic inspections.
- All inspections come with a full digital report typically within 24 hours.

National Volunteer Week 2021

April 18-24, 2021

The value and power of volunteers celebrated

The National Volunteer Week theme for 2021, "The value of one, the power of many" reflects on the abundant acts of kindness by millions of individuals and the positive results when we work together towards a common purpose.

According to Volunteer Canada, during the past year, people have been supporting family, friends, neighbours, and strangers, people standing up to systemic racism, and people sharing insights on how to create a more just and equitable society.

The organizers of National Volunteer Week, April 18 to 24, recognize the value of the caring and compassion that each one has shown another, and the power of people, organizations, and sectors working together.

"The power of people working together can bring about monumental changes. We have seen people work together on legislative changes related to impaired driving, same sex marriage, and assisted dying," states the organizing body.

The theme is a nod to Volunteer Canada's past, a reflection of its present, and a wink to the future. "The value of one, the power of many" was the theme for National Volunteer Week in 2001. The International Year of Volunteers. It reflects the individual and collective efforts, being seen during the pandemic, and it sets the tone for re-imagining the next 20 years as the value of one act and the power of many enables us to thrive together, according to Volunteer Canada's promotion of the week.

As part of the celebration of volunteers, organizers are inviting submissions related to the theme. Here are some examples....

"The value of one person calling the power to check in. The power of many people working to prevent social isolation."

"The value of one person volunteering at a food bank."

"The power of many people volunteering on a Food Security Advisory Committee."

"The value of one person standing up to transphobia."

"The power of many people calling for the protection of gender diversity."

VOLUNTEERS:

Making Our World a Stronger Place

Our nation's volunteers make a difference by donating their time, energy and skills to helping other people, animals and our environment. Their commitment and caring are the heart of our communities, and we salute their year-round efforts with great admiration and appreciation for all that they do.

Thanks, volunteers!
